Customer Reviews

The jet plane begins to zoom down the runway and quickly rises in the sky. All night and all day planes are soaring into the sky traveling around the world. There are all kinds of planes. "Cargo planes have lots of room. / Fill them up and off they zoom!" Look at the entire circus getting ready to board that cargo plane. There is a clown, the tall man of the circus, tigers, ladies in tutus, and even magnificent elephants. There are tiny planes that don't go far and crop dusters that don't spend a lot of time in the air."Propeller planes. / Rotor planes. / Single- and four-motor planes. / Climbing! Diving! Turning! Zooming! / Banking! Slowing! Speeding! Vrooming!" Look at those planes that fly in formation. Have you ever been to an air show? There are military planes and even those that land on ships. It's amazing when you can watch planes, people, and dogs perform like the ones at the "Dare-Devil Dog Air Show." Have you ever seen a dog on a ball, on the shoulders of two women, on the wing of a plane? This is a fantastic book about all kinds of planes as they soar through the skies. No, this is not the type of book you can learn facts about planes, but rather a fun one that youngsters can use their imaginations as they fly the skies with them. This story in rhyme doesn't seem to miss a beat as these animated planes entertain us for page after page. The artwork is bright, bold, and brings a bit of humor to the tale. A couple of the rhyming sequences are exhibited on two-page spreads meant to be flipped and read the long way. Young plane lovers will be entranced by this book!
