It is a calendar that does its job aquatically, really what calender cant do that? However I was disappointed with the images used as none of them were full size, they all had a border to the left and right as they were not formatted for the size of the calender, nor any different than other standard Naruto shots. Also the calendar didn't have any of the character birthdays or bios like in previous ones. Not that it matter really, as its not like I am going to have a party for a fictional character, but it was a nice touch of previous anime calendars i have purchased. Given the chance I would of bought another series... There is always next year.

I don't like ordinary stuff, it's must be a extraordinary. This calendar has large day boxes so you can write there daily high lights, like when you have Dojo practice. Monthly graphics is awesome and most English sphere holidays have marked. This is good purchase, are you true Ninja or not. Also includes Japanese writing on calendar.

The calendar is really good, it is colourful and the pictures are really good, the only problem was that it was shipped in a large box, which is a waste. It would of saved me a few bucks if it was sent in an envelope. But I liked the calendar and I'm really happy with it.

I love this calendar. Sundays and Holidays are noted with red circles and each day has the number in japanese kanji. Altogether this is the perfect calendar for a Naruto fan! =)
