Customer Reviews

I want to point out to you that the review that is on this site that is for only 3 stars is actually for a 2008 Big Sur Calendar that was printed by another printer 8 years ago. The quality of paper on this current San Francisco calendar is of very good quality. That review was from 8 years ago and has nothing to do with this calendar. This problem happened because of an accidental re-use of the same ISBN number on these 2 different calendars. All efforts have been made to make this calendar as good a quality as possible.

The pictures are very nice but the quality of the paper they are printed on is poor. The pictures curl in from the sides. That definately takes away from the quality of the item
