Customer Reviews

I bought this along with about 10 other workbooks for my son who will be turning 4 in a week. Most of the workbooks didn't hold his attention more than two or three pages. However he finished almost all of this the first day and woke me up early the second day so he could finish it. He enjoyed the puzzles as well as the stickers and completion chart. Now he is asking to do it again. I highly recommend this as a first workbook. Some of the puzzles require knowledge of the letter sounds and being able to write the letters individually, but it is not writing intensive. I had to walk him through the first couple of mazes, but he caught on quickly.

My 3.5 year old finished 80% of this in 2 hours. It was far too simple to be listed as K level. There were also very few mazes and since the book is titled Puzzles and Mazes it was overall a huge disappointment. Not at all as the title describes!

This is a nice workbook for home-based support of very beginning readers. It includes some fun, easy puzzles that allow the child to work with letters and letter sounds without being intimidated by the prospect of reading. Very simple puzzles. In my opinion, it would be most appropriate for the average 4 year-old child, but older children who have not had experience with the alphabet on a regular basis would also benefit.

My 5 year old completed the crossword puzzle on page 50 today and was so pleased with herself. The activities are spot on as far as her level. She loves all of her Hooked On Learning Kindergarten books.

My Kindergartener is enjoying this workbook for fun. He zooms right through the pages and I think it builds his confidence to know that he can do it all on his own.

This was purchase for my nephew whose into puzzles & need a rest from his parents cell phone - he loves the games on cell but he needs to read & enjoy books more.

This was fun to work with my 5 yo granddaughter. It did seem somewhat "easy", but it is a good review...she worked the entire book in one evening.

This is a very good book. My 3 year old was very interested in the different activities and the stickers was a great way to keep her engaged longer.
